

All That the Earth Can Yield

Thoughtfully ♩ = 60-66

All that the earth can yield, All that seeds can hold,
All that I think I own, All with - in my hand,
All of the dreams of youth, Me - mo - ries of age,

Sheep with - in the fold; Fruit of a heav - y field Or House and plot of land; All that I've reaped and sown And Life at ev - 'ry stage; All that I know of truth And fal-len from tree and vine: They are al - read - y thine.

all that the world calls mine: They are al - read - y thine.
all that is sweet and fine: It is al - read - y thine.

Text: Orson Scott Card
Music: Janice Kapp Perry

Copyright © 2004 by Orson Scott Card and Janice Kapp Perry International Copyright Secured. Made in U.S.A. All Rights Reserved